Join Us for Sexual Assault Awareness Month
Presentation and panel discussion about childhood sexual abuse

SPEAKING ABOUT INCEST: THE SILENT TABOO

Thursday, April 29th, 4:30-6pm

Produced by Breakthrough LA – My Voice Matters / Tara Guber in partnership with USC Office of Religious and Spiritual Life, USC Office of Equity, Equal Opportunity and Title IX, and USC Campus Wellbeing and Crisis Intervention

Often called “The Silent Taboo”, this event will explore the profound impact and consequence of incest and sexual abuse on victims’ identity, voice, agency and relationships and will include segments from the landmark HBO docu-series, “Allen v. Farrow” created by award-winning producers Amy Ziering & Kirby Dick and Amy Herdy.

Moderator:
Vanessa Gomez Brake, Associate Dean of USC Religious and Spiritual Life

Speakers:

Brenda Ingram, EdD, LCSW, Clinical Assistant Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, USC Keck School of Medicine, Program Director, USC Relationship and Sexual Violence Prevention and Services (RSVP), USC Student Health

Pre-Registration is required that includes a statement about participating in this event. Participants need to be at least 18 years of age.
Registration click HERE.

This event is made possible through the generous support of Mary Stevens, Breakthrough LA, Jane Doe Films and HBO Documentaries and Warner Media Philanthropies