Knowledge, Perspectives, and Experiences
KPEs-Knowledge

• Knowledge is what we know intellectually: what we have been taught, who taught us, how we have been taught, what we have had a chance to know

• Leading Below the Surface: How to Build Real (and Psychologically Safe) Relationships with People Who Are Different From You
  • by LaTonya Wilkins
KPEs-Perspectives

• We all gain different perspectives based on how we grow up, how we see things: identities such as religion, race, gender, values, culture, and upbringing all influence our perspectives.

• Leading Below the Surface: How to Build Real (and Psychologically Safe) Relationships with People Who Are Different From You
  • by LaTonya Wilkins
KPEs-Experiences

• Experiences are encounters we have in life: living different places, having different careers, some are unique, some are life-changing, we are born into some and get to choose others

• Leading Below the Surface: How to Build Real (and Psychologically Safe) Relationships with People Who Are Different From You
  • by LaTonya Wilkins
KPEs-Who Am I?

• Reflect on your KPEs and your answers to the following:

• 1. What KPEs do you bring with you, and how do they enhance (or hinder) your current work (or previous work)?
• 2. Does your current (or previous) work group have a well-rounded set of KPEs or are there potential blind spots?
• 3. How comfortable are you sharing your responses to 1 and 2?

Cycle of Socialization

First Socialization

We are socialized by people we love and trust, and taught to play our roles and follow rules.

They shape our self-concepts and self-perceptions as well as how we see others. They shape our dreams, our values, our expectations, and our future goals.

We get mixed messages, feel confused, and suffer for not understanding.

Institutional and Cultural Socialization

We are consciously and unconsciously bombarded with messages about who should have power and who should not by all the institutions we encounter: education, religion, medicine, law, criminal justice, government, social services, and business.

We are brainwashed by our culture, media, language, patterns of thought, holidays, and songs.

Enforcements

A system of rewards and punishments keeps us playing by the rules.

Those who stay in line are rewarded, while those who don't are punished, persecuted, stigmatized, or ostracized by discrimination.

The Core that keeps us in the cycle

Ignorance, Insecurity, Confusion, Oppression, Fear!

Results

The socialization leads to bad outcomes for those with and without power.

Misconceptions, discrimination, silence, stress, isolation, inequality, anger, guilt, hate, self-hatred, self-destructive behaviors, resistance, stress, and internalization of patterns of power for the future.

Direction for Change – Movement Toward Liberation

We begin to see that something is wrong with the picture.

We begin to question the system.

We begin to challenge, to question, to change.

Something makes us begin to think, to challenge, to question, the system.

We are born into a world with the mechanics of oppression already in place.

We have no consciousness, no voice, no blame, no guilt.

There is no information or limited information or misinformation about social identity and power.

Race, stereotyping, prejudice, hate, tradition, and a history of oppression already exist. We inherit them without our permission.

The continuity:

We do nothing and the cycle continues.

We choose not to make waves.

We live with or promote the status quo.

We fail to question, challenge, or think about what is wrong with this picture.

We are born into a world with the mechanics of oppression already in place.

Psychological safety—when people feel safe to take risks and be vulnerable with one another
Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging
DEIB in LaVonna Lewis Land

• I define diversity as counting the numbers, representing who is here

• I define inclusion as counting the voices, recognizing who is being heard

• I define equity as counting the costs, redirecting resources and our attention to who needs help to remove the barriers to opportunity so that they can maximize their potential.

• I define belonging as what happens when we feel seen, heard, valued, connected to others and to meaningful work
• Diversity encompasses not only race, but also gender, age, ethnicity, culture, marital status, religion, sexual orientation, abilities and disabilities; and anything else that differentiates individuals from one another....

• Differences that make a difference

ASPIRE Framework for DIALOGUE

• A = Assume Good Intent, Acknowledge Impact
• S = Speak One at a Time
• P = Participate (make space/take space)
• I = Use “I” Statements
• R = Respect Confidentiality/Risk taking
• E = Escuchar (Listen)/Empathy
What Do You Want From (or Give to) Other Individuals?

Pity:
I acknowledge your suffering.

Empathy:
I feel your suffering.

Sympathy:
I want to relieve your suffering.

Identity (with):
I am acting to relieve your suffering.

Engagement
Bias and Microaggressions
Explicit/Conscious Bias

- Conscious expression of statements or behavior that conveys a negative attitude, belief or stereotype about an individual or group

  - Individual is aware of their behavior and it is under conscious control

  - Individual’s behavior is intentional
Implicit / Unconscious Bias

Social stereotypes about certain groups of people that individuals form outside their own conscious awareness.

Everyone holds unconscious beliefs about various social and identity groups, and these biases stem from one’s tendency to organize social worlds by categorizing.
Identifying Biases

• Information Overload

• Confirmation Bias - we tend to seek out information that supports our existing beliefs

• Anchoring Bias - we tend to rely on the first piece of information we see
Identifying Biases

• Feelings Over Facts

• In-Group Bias- we favor people we like and who like us while excluding and judging those who are different

• Negativity Bias- we are more powerfully influenced by negative experiences than we are positive experiences
Identifying Biases

• Processing Time

  • Attribution Bias - we judge others on their actions but we judge ourselves by our intentions

  • Sunk Costs Bias - we tend to continue things because we have invested in them - i.e., time, money, etc.
Microaggressions

Brief and commonplace daily verbal, behavioral, and environmental indignities, whether intentional or unintentional, that communicate hostile, derogatory, or negative slights and insults to the target person or group

Types of Microaggression

• Microassault
  • an explicit derogation characterized primarily by a verbal or nonverbal attack meant to hurt the intended victim through name-calling, avoidant behavior, or purposeful discriminatory actions
    • Only shown publicly when they (a) lose control or (b) feel relatively safe to engage in a microassault

<td>Pathologizing Cultural Values/Communication Styles&lt;br&gt;The notion that the values and communication styles of the dominant/White culture are ideal/“normal”.&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;• To an Asian, Latino or Native American: “Why are you so quiet? We want to know what you think. Be more verbal.” “Speak up more.”&lt;br&gt;• Asking a Black person: “Why do you have to be so loud/animated? Just calm down.”&lt;br&gt;• “Why are you always angry?” anytime race is brought up in the classroom discussion.&lt;br&gt;• Dismissing an individual who brings up race/culture in work/school setting.</td>

<td>Traditional Gender Role Prejudicing and Stereotyping&lt;br&gt;Occurs when expectations of traditional roles or stereotypes are conveyed.&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;• When a female student asks a male professor for extra help on an engineering assignment, he asks “What do you need to work on this for anyway?”&lt;br&gt;• “You’re a girl, you don’t have to be good at math.”&lt;br&gt;• A person asks a woman her age and, upon hearing she is 31, looks quickly at her ring finger.&lt;br&gt;• An advisor asks a female student if she is planning on having children while in postdoctoral training.&lt;br&gt;• Shows surprise when a feminine woman turns out to be a lesbian.&lt;br&gt;• Labeling an assertive female committee chair/dean as a “b______” while describing a male counterpart as a “forceful leader.”</td>
<td>Women are less capable in math and science.&lt;br&gt;Women should be married during child-bearing ages because that is their primary purpose.&lt;br&gt;Women are out of line when they are aggressive.</td>
<td></td>

Types of Microaggression

• Microinsult
  • communications that convey rudeness and insensitivity and demean a person’s heritage or identity
  • Perpetrator of a microinsult is often times not aware of the implications of their message but the undertones are clear to the recipient

Types of Microaggression

• Microinvalidation
  • communications that exclude, negate, or nullify the psychological thoughts, feelings, or experiential reality of an ‘othered’ group
    • Gaslighting, racelighting, imposter syndrome

| Denial of Individual Racism/Sexism/Heterosexism
A statement made when bias is denied. | • “I’m not racist. I have several Black friends.”
• “As a woman, I know what you go through as a racial minority.”
• To a person of color: “Are you sure you were being followed in the store? I can’t believe it.” | I could never be racist because I have friends of color. Your racial oppression is no different than my gender oppression. I can’t be a racist. I’m like you. Denying the personal experience of individuals who experience bias. |
| Myth of Meritocracy
Statements which assert that race or gender does not play a role in life successes, for example in issues like faculty demographics. | • “I believe the most qualified person should get the job.”
• “Of course he’ll get tenure, even though he hasn’t published much—he’s Black!”
• “Men and women have equal opportunities for achievement.”
• “Gender plays no part in who we hire.”
• “America is the land of opportunity.”
• “Everyone can succeed in this society, if they work hard enough.”
• “Affirmative action is racist.” | People of color are given extra unfair benefits because of their race. The playing field is even so if women cannot make it, the problem is with them. People of color are lazy and/or incompetent and need to work harder. |

Sharing Our Stories

Questions to consider

1. When did you feel different?

2. What was helpful for you in overcoming that?

3. How have you helped other people who've not been feeling connected?
DEIB Competence and Addressing Bias

• Requires:
  • Honest self-reflection
  • Willingness to accept feedback
  • Willingness to disclose truth about own values, beliefs and behaviors
Fear of Difference

• There is a human comfort level with homogeneity and lack of differentiation

• Without challenging this fear and engaging with “the other”, personal transformation is not possible
Concluding Thoughts

• Am I aware of how my KPEs and biases might impact how I engage with others?

• What are you committed to doing that lets others know that you consider yourself part of the problem AND the solution?
Thank You
